EXCITING NEW SELF-HELP PROGRAM GIVES TOOLS AND HOPE TO SECRET SUFFERERS: Living Harmony: Living Clear by renowned energy expert, Cathleen Campbell

Hoboken, NJ – Hooked on psychic-reading sufferers can finally breathe a sigh of relief: Living Harmony: Living Clear offers them the answers they've been seeking. Beloved energy expert, Cathleen Campbell, EFT-CC, has created the ONLY available program designed for the individual hooked on getting so-called predictive readings. "When a person learns to create their own life, armed with the ability to handle whatever comes their way, they no longer care to give control over to anyone," states Campbell. Living Clear teaches the sufferer how to release their destructive patterns and clear the pain that compelled them into getting readings in the first place. This breakthrough program (info and pricing available at www.inlivingharmony.com) of individual tele-sessions, filled with firsthand accounts from clients and revolutionary energy techniques, provides an urgently needed resource for people in the desperate struggle to quiet their minds and hearts so they can gain or regain control of their lives.

Highly regarded energy modalities authority with more than a decade in the field, Campbell provides hope for a future filled with the security that can only be found from within. "The BEST life is the one you can create for yourself and live in Living Harmony." This program provides a deep understanding of the issues that precede getting hooked on readings, the tools to regain control and how to use them, and finally a clear meaning and sense of recovery. Campbell is currently the ONLY practitioner of any modality offering a program designed specifically for people hooked on psychic readings of any kind.

"Through a series of private sessions clients immediately learn to release their own pain and confusing repetitive questions, develop skills for coping with current stress and practice proven technologies to consciously create their own life in Living Harmony," announces Ms. Campbell, "Clients learn tools right from the first session they can use on their own, with their therapist or in their support groups. In learning how to create their own lives and process their own emotions and thoughts, they also learn to stop blaming everyone and everything outside of themselves, including psychics."

Just how many people are hooked on contacting psychic "advisors"? And who are these sufferers?

Though America sometimes seems to be a nation of addictions and 12-step programs, being hooked on psychics carries such isolation and shame it isn't even discussed in whispers. Living Harmony: Living Clear Program brings attention to not just the epidemic, but more importantly tools that can be used to address and resolve the underlying issues that cause this painful, embarrassing and costly issue. Afflicting women and men of all ages, and every economic and faith background, the problem is an underground epidemic. Psychic reading web sites rank just under the mega-web site search engines and porn. Millions of hits to these sites with their countless advisors available 24 hours daily suggest astronomical numbers of callers and dollars spent in the mostly dashed hopes of callers seeking relief from their confused pain.

Cathleen Campbell is the founder of Living Harmony, an energy and successful living practice based in Hoboken, NJ. She's studied personally with world renowned leaders in energy and healing such as Louise Hay and Laura Day. Most impressively she used the same energy tools she teaches her own clients to heal a catastrophic paralyzing neck injury, create and succeed in her own business, manifest true love and enjoy peaceful days in Living Harmony.
